Trustees Notice

Many complaints have been made to the Village Trustees in regard to the excessive speed at which many automobiles are driven through our streets, also the same not sounding the horn at crossings and corners. That this is a common occurrence is well known to all. Hereafter such violations of the law will be noticed and the penalties of the law enforced if possible.

The attention of bicycle riders is called to the Village By-Laws regarding riding on the sidewalks, the penalty is $2.00 for each offense. The law will be enforced.

Also complaints have been made as to the fast driving of teams on some of our streets at nightfall and later, the law in this connection is very explicit, and will be enforced. To keep our streets safe for the general public (to whom they of right belong) is the intent of these laws, and individuals must govern themselves accordingly.

Bacon Estate at Quebec Sold

"Marshland," the old Porter place in Quebec, containing about 225 acres, has been sold by the heirs of the John L. Bacon estate to Malcolm W. Niven, a New York lawyer, for $1600. Originally it was the home of one of the first lieutenant governors of the state, Lieut. Gov. Marsh and in selecting the name "Marshland" Mr. Bacon sought to perpetuate the name of its founder.

Plans and specifications for a new High school building in Chester will be procured by a committee appointed at a special meeting. The site has not yet been selected.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

IN COUNTY JAIL

Windsor Man Threatened His Wife With a Gun

David Garten of Windsor, is in the county jail, charged with assault with intent to kill. He has not been living with his wife for some time, and Wednesday evening he went to the hotel where his wife is employed and started a quarrel with her over their child. He drew a revolver and threatened to shoot her. She ran into the stable and he followed her, but was disarmed by the hostler, William Taylor.

Before an officer could be summoned, Garten ran across the bridge into New Hampshire. He was followed soon by States Attorney E. R. Buck and Deputy Sheriff Kiniry, who captured their man. Garten returned voluntarily and was given a hearing before Justice F. S. Hale. He was bound over to the County court in $300 bail which he failed to furnish. He claimed that the revolver was not loaded and that he intended only to frighten his wife.

Tewksbury-Whitaker.

The following is from the Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin of Thursday, June 9:

The house of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Whitaker, 223 Central avenue, was the scene on Wednesday evening of a pretty home wedding when their daughter, Marion Louise, was united in marriage with Dr. Ralph Montague Tewksbury of Attleboro, Mass. Rev. Peter C. Wright of the Central Baptist church performed the ceremony, the bridal party standing before a bank of laurel. The decorations consisted of laurel, roses and carnations, the color scheme being pink and white.

The bride made a charming appearance, attired in a handsome gown of white satin and chiffon, with pearl trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

She was attended by her matron of honor, Mrs. William Spence, of Lowell, Mass., who wore white nuns veiling, and carried pink sweet peas. Dr. Tewksbury was attended by Lieut. Karl A. Pember of Woodstock, Vt.

Mrs. Whitaker wore an imported gown of black net and cut with jet trimmings.

Miss Alice Woodward rendered the following musical programme in an efficient manner:

Gondolieri, Nevin; Venetian Love Song, Nevin; To a Wild Rose, McDowell; Murmuring Zephyrs, Jensen; Humoresque, Dvorak; Wedding March, Mendelssohn; Ich liebe dich, Greig; Papillon, Grieg; Romance in D flat, Libelins; Auf Wiedersehen, Hobart.

Dr. Tewksbury gave his bride a handsome gold chain and locket set with diamonds and to his best man a ruby and jade scarfpin. The bride gave her matron of honor a pearl brooch.

Refreshments were served after the reception and the many beautiful gifts were admired.

Mrs. Tewksbury is known in musical circles as a singer of ability, and Dr. Tewksbury is one of the foremost dental surgeons in Attleboro.

Dr. and Mrs. Tewksbury left on an evening train for a trip through New York and Vermont and will be at home Wednesdays after August 1 at 9 Franklin street, Attleboro, Mass.

They have the best wishes of their friends for a long and happy wedded life.

Death of Mrs. E. K. Slack.

Mrs. Edward K. Slack died at her home on Lincoln street Thursday evening, surviving an operation to relieve her illness only a day. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. H. L. Canfield officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery. Mrs. Slack was born in South Woodstock, Dec. 30, 1852, the daughter of Stephen P. and Adeline Clark Buckman, and has passed most of her life in Woodstock, living in Quebec a short time, where in 1871, she married Mr. Slack. She leaves, beside her husband, two sons, Earle M. of Woodstock, and Ernest K., a corporal in the regular army and now at Fort Wayne, Mich.

The attraction at Music hall Wednesday and Thursday, June 15 and 16, will be Simpson-Hogg's Lilliputian Opera Co., presenting Gilbert and Sullivan's popular comic opera "The Gondoliers," on Wednesday evening. This diminutive organization is composed of talented children, ranging from four to 14 years of age, each one impersonating a character of the play, having been brought up in this line of work from early childhood, being children of the profession. These little ones have been in the personal charge of Madam Simpson Hogg, are talented, bright, musically inclined, possessing fine trained voices and a natural talent for the stage. It seems incredible that such small children should be capable of giving a professional production of a standard opera, but such is the case the entire company rendering 22 musical numbers during the evening.

A Plant Watering Scheme.

Persons engaged in rearing household plants are often in a quandary when it is desired to leave the house temporarily without neglecting the plants. An arrangement can be readily rigged up so that the necessary water will be supplied to the soil automatically. Take a bowl of water and raise it well above the level of the plant to be watered by means of a box or a pile of books. Twist several strands of common darning wool together to form a long thread and soak them in the water. If one end be hung over the bowl and the other end left in the water a steady drip will commence and continue until the bowl is empty.—London Globe.

Education and Efficiency.

Nowhere for many years continuously has the education machine worked more untiringly than in London. Yet of the skilled labor of London two-thirds is done by men and women from the provinces, while seven out of every ten dock laborers and 80 or 90 per cent of those who seek refuge in night shelters are London born and bred. What does this mean? Is it merely the fierce competition caused by the compelling attraction of London, with its glitter of wages, or does it prove some fatal weakness in the London schools?—London Saturday Review.

The committee of the Bethel Board of Trade having in charge the retention of the Fisher tannery will at once enter upon a canvass to secure pledges of financial aid to rebuild. Mr. Fisher, who has flattered offers to go elsewhere, has said that he would re-build in Bethel if $4,000 were raised.
